Community Reviews. This novel also contains the similar novella 'A certain smile'. Both stories are by the then young 18 year old, French author Sagan. They are basically about a young woman; the first Cecile (17) and her love for a vibrant Cyril (25) whilst disliking her widowed father's new love affair.

Bonjour Tristesse & A Certain Smile by Françoise Sagan

Françoise Sagan and Johann Wolfgang von Goethe both managed to capture the intensity of emotions in their novels that I have not experienced in more recent books. Bonjour Tristesse is a stronger novel than A Certain Smile, but I think both books are worth experiencing.

A Certain Smile (1958)

Françoise Sagan is best known for her first novel, Bonjour Tristesse, which caused a scandal when she first published it at the age of eighteen in 1953. But her second novel, A Certain Smile, less shocking and more psychologically convincing, was preferred by many critics. Like Bonjour Tristesse, this story is set in Paris in the 1950s and told by a young student bored by her law books
