The multiverse, also known as an omniverse or meta-universe, is a hypothetical group of multiple universes. Together, these universes comprise everything that exists: the entirety of space, time, matter, energy, and the physical laws and constants that describe them. The different universes within the multiverse are called "parallel universes", "other universes", or "alternate universes".

int doesn't initialize to zero. When you say `int i;`, all you're doing is reserving space for an integer. The value at that location is not initialized. That's only done with you say `int i = 0;` (or `int i = 5;` in which case the value is initialized to 5). Eitherway, it's good practice to initialize a variable to some known value.
